OUR FIRST ISSUE HUMANS CAN READ!

Fairies autograph the doors they make with their initial using the ancient Irish alphabet, Ogham. For humans who purchase Fairy doors and would like to know which Fairy made them you can find out here on page 3.

FAIRY GAME COMING

Dan is working on a special game to be played by Humans coming online soon.

The Humans will have to go through an old castle and rescue Queen Tiana from the evil Sorceress Velda. Fairy's can also play.

Thunder and lightning struck Saoirse yesterday brought about by Fiona in a fit of anger when the Elf Shamus broke off their relationship. Queen Tiana is now looking into the disappearance of Shamus.

For Humans

You can write to any of the Fairy's and they will write back. We would love to hear from you. Check out page 4 for details.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING!

We Fairies celebrate it too. Picture is by Art by Weeze. Check out her website <http://artbyweeze.com/>

Welcome Humans! Dan Mace, our friend and Human contact in your world asked about sharing our newspaper with Humans. We had a long meeting about it and decided if you are kind enough to buy our Enchanted Portals then we would share our newspaper with you. There are a few things you new readers should know. First off we don't keep time like you do. We don't care what the hour or the date is. We don't have calendars. All that matters to us is if the Sun is out or it's night. We publish this newspaper whenever we wish so there is no schedule like there is in your world. Our language is different and our spelling of your words can be different and how we do things is different but Dan is helping with that so you can understand this newspaper. The good lad does a fair job of it I'm supposin so give him a thanks when you see him.

Magical Gathering Party

Last nights party was a big success! All the Fairies, Pixies and Elves danced all night while the Leprechauns played the music. Queen Tiana was seen dancing with the Fairy Callum and I wondered if romance was in the air for the two of them.

Even King Brian, King of the leprechauns was there to join in the fun and everyone was happy the Leprechauns were well behaved.

Aine showed off her unique flying skills doing wild acrobatics. Breena's fruit punch was enjoyed by everyone and she still refuses to share the recipe.

The Human Dan attended the party and spent the night dancing and talking to Sheila. Dan brought his wife Sheila along and the pair had a lot of fun. It was decided before the party that Sheila, being the special lady that she is and Dan's wife, is more then welcome in Saoirse any time.

A special thanks to the Elves for the wonderful fire works display.

SPECIAL NOTICE FROM QUEEN TIANA

To all those in the magic world who have been visiting Human social media spots on the internet, Do NOT let the Humans know you are part of the magical world! Since I opened a portal to the internet many of you have opened accounts in the different social media places and are interacting with Humans. That's fine but one of the Leprechauns posted who they are, fortunately no one believed him. If anyone does that again they will be in serious trouble.

Also, Pixies who are opening accounts in the dating sites, that has to stop. One Pixie had 764 Human men try to connect with her and she started actually visiting them and playing tricks on them. We all know some of the Pixie's can be feminists and enjoy making Human men miserable. If I catch any of you doing that again I will banish you from our world and you can live among them forever.

FAIRY APPROVED

TO HUMANS READING THIS

About the Fairy News. Remember, the Fairy's don't think the same way as we humans do and they don't keep time or a calendar. Orla asked me to take her out to a restaurant in the human world. She's never had a hot dog or a hamburger so she changed into human form and after suggesting some changes to the clothing she was wearing, I took her to Dogs 11 on Winchester ave. in Martinsburg for Orla's first taste of a hot dog. After apologizing to Danny and Tiffany the owners I went back to the restaurant after taking Orla home and helped them clean up the mess she made. Orla had never tasted mustard before and the taste of it startled her. Before I knew it tables and chairs were magically flying all over the place. Orla said it was a reflex action she couldn't control when she was startled. If you ever take a Fairy to dinner never, NEVER let them try mustard and whatever you do, DON'T startle them!

Disclaimer: Orla is not the reason Dogs 11 closed.

WARNING

Winter is approaching and the squirrels are storing their nuts in preparation. Aine caught one trying to steal her nuts so keep an eye out for them and protect your foods!

Note to Humans:

The Leprechauns asked if they could write a column for this news paper. I told them they could and left this spot open for them. As often happens with Leprechauns they had a party and never got around to sending in their column. If they ever do I'll post it here.

Transporting Humans

As everyone knows, when a Human buys an Enchanted Portal Fairy Door from Dan Mace, the Fairies can go through it and visit the buyer in their dreams. One of the Fairies who visited a Human spread Fairy Dust all over their bedroom and magically transported it and the Human to a mountain top in Ireland. The Human woke up and was so confused that the Fairy in question took a lot of time explaining what she did. The Human liked it and started wandering off to explore more of Ireland. The Fairy had to chase after the Human and ended up transporting them and the bedroom back to where it belonged. From this moment on transporting Humans and or their rooms is forbidden without first asking the Human if it's okay to do it.

This is an ancient alphabet from where the Fairy's originally came from, Ireland. They used it with a line running from top to bottom and the marks on the line are the letters. Look on the bottom of your Enchanted Portal, Fairy Door to find out whose door it is. The mark is the initial of that Fairy.

A WARNING TO MALE HUMANS!

Wood Nymphs may be beautiful women and you may want to be friendly with them if you meet one but be careful! Wood Nymphs never like to be told no and can become quite nasty and cast spells on you if you don't give them, or do for them what they want.

Council of Magic Meeting

The meeting went as usual. Queen Tiana called the meeting to order. The minutes from the last meeting were read. Fairy Cliona asked about building an amusement park and opening Saoirse to the Humans. Everyone else voted against it. The Leprechauns were arguing with everyone as usual and once again Queen Tiana cast a spell on them that made them sit quietly. Everyone else applauded. There was some talk about the Fairy game Dan is making and he talked about the progress he was making with it. It was approved again this year that the magic folk would be allowed to go out among the Humans but they must be in Human size and only light magic on the Humans can be used. Queen Tiana gave an official warning about dating Humans. It is okay to date them but be careful of what you do and say. The Pixies were warned not to put enchantment spells on the male Humans. After the meeting refreshments were served.

Letters to the Fairies

We have talked about it and all the Fairies agree they would love to hear from you Humans so send us your letters and we will post them and respond to them. You can send it to us Fairies in general or a particular Fairy. Use the fairynews email link below.

By Dan Mace

This is the story of the Fairy's, their Enchanted Portal Fairy Doors and how I came to be selling them.

When I built my house in West Virginia's Shenandoah Valley, I ran into a curious problem. Not one I couldn't overcome, or at least work around but there was a tree stump and try as I might, I could not get it out of the ground. It wouldn't budge, I tried bulldozing it, even cutting it but nothing worked. It wasn't in the actual area where I wanted to build my house so I left it there. That was a long time ago.

Over the years I tried every method possible to get rid of it but it remained. One early morning when the sun was just coming up and most people are still tucked in their beds, I went outside to enjoy the spring morning with my coffee. I frowned at the stump and just out of frustration I gave it a hard kick.

"Well there's no doubt you're Irish. You don't give up do you?"

I looked around for the girl who spoke but didn't see anyone. It was especially odd since she spoke with a thick Irish accent.

"I looked around for the girl who spoke but didn't see anyone. It was especially odd since she spoke with a thick Irish accent.

"Down here!"

I looked down, and there, standing in a tiny doorway at the base of the stump, a doorway that hadn't been there a moment ago, was a tiny woman with wings. I thought sure my mind is gone or there's something wrong with the coffee!

"No, you're not losing your mind, I'm real and if you were half the Irishman I thought you were you'd know that!" She said.

I shut my eyes hard and opened them again and she was still there. Her delicate wings fluttered and she flew up to the top of the stump.

"Do you know who I am?" she asked.

"A really adorable bit of my imagination?"

"Imagination is it! Do you not trust your own eyes then?"

"At the moment, no."

"We'll see about that." She flew up in front of my face, made a tiny fist and hit me right on the end of my nose."

"Ouch! For so little a girl you hit awfully hard!"

"Now that I have your attention I'll be asking you to stop trying to destroy the portal. It can't be done with the protection of the fairy magic I put on it but every time you try it creates problems for us in Saiorse."

"Saoirse? What?"

"Saoirse! You've not heard the word? And you, braggin to your friends about bein Irish and all the time not knowin a bit of the Irish tongue! Saoirse, (pronounced See-r-sha) it means freedom, liberty and for me it means home. It's the name we gave the land we moved to when we left this world. When we opened this enchanted portal and went through it."

"We? You mean there's more of you? More... Fairies?"

"Aye of course."

"Well little Fairy, would you be so kind as to explain to me what this is all about? I can't be expected to know that too can I?"

"No, I suppose not. Okay but first it's only proper I introduce myself. My name is Tiana, I am Queen of the Fairy folk and you're Dan. Don't look so surprised, we've been watching you ever since you first came here."

"Many years ago when the new settlers were moving to America from Europe, we, an Irish troupe of Fairy's came here and built a village in this beautiful Valley."

"There was a native American tribe living here and we all got along very well. When the Chief of the tribe first met us, he was so amazed by the magic we could do that he named the whole valley 'Shenandoah', which means 'Daughter of the Stars'. When he saw our shimmering light, tiny size and our ability to fly he thought we were some of the lights in the night sky."

"As the settlers started moving into the area, we knew we would never be able to live among them and so I opened an Enchanted Portal into another world and brought all my people with me into it."

"I named the new world Saoirse. As for me bein here now talkin to you I'll be askin you to stop assaulting the portal. It creates a shock wave in my world and that kick you gave it was the last straw. It knocked the dishes off my shelf and broke them all, not to mention all the other damage you've done over the years! Now will you be so kind as to leave this portal alone in the future?"

I stared at her for a long moment thinking over all she said and the fact that she was here at all then nodded my head. "I'm sorry, If I'd known I would have left the stump alone."

"Good lad. Now for the second reason I came here today. Your world is losing all sense of magic and wonder and we think it's time to put things right. Some of us miss you humans."

"You're going to come back and let the world see you?" I asked.

"No, that would be foolish, there'd be no peace for us. We've set about creating Enchanted Portals, Fairy Doors. We want you to get them out to people. You can sell them and keep the money for doing this service for us."

"That's an interesting idea but how does that let you interact with humans?"

"When a human has one of our Enchanted Portals, one of our Fairy Doors they place it in their home or on their property and at night when they sleep, we'll visit with them in their dreams. It will seem like a dream to them but it will be just as real as you and I standing here talking now. We hope to give people back their sense of wonder and magic and one day, when this world is ready we can come safely back to it. Will you help us lad?"

I didn't have to think that over, I said yes right away. Tiana even invited me to visit their world. Of course she had to perform a bit of magic on and make me small enough to get through the Enchanted Portal first. It was a strange feeling to be sure but once there it was wonderful.

The Fairy folk are proud of the Fairy Doors they make and each one is signed by them on the bottom. You can see the first letter of each Fairy name and compare it to the Irish alphabet to discover which Fairy made it. Of course they still write in the old Irish language called Ogham pronounced Oh em) so I include the ancient Irish alphabet here.

Slainte Mhaith! (pronounced Slahncha Vah) It means Good health in the Irish language.
